BIDDING AND WINKING AT AUCTIONS.-Smith, the auctioneer, is a popular man, a wit and a gentleman. No person is offended at what he says, and many a hearty laugh has he provoked by his humorous sayings. He was recently engaged in the sale of venerable household furniture, and "fixings." He had just got to "going, and half, ahalf, going!" when he saw a smiling countenance, upon agricultural shoulders, wink at him. A wink is always as good as a nod to a keen sighted auctioneer: so Smith winked, and they kept "going, going going!" with a lot of glassware, stove pipes carpets, pots, and perfumery; and finally this lot was knocked down.

"To whom ?" said Smith gazing at the smiling stranger.

"Who? heigh!" said the stranger.

don't know who. "Why, you, sir," said Smith.

"Who ? me ?" "Yes, yes; you bid on the lot," said Smith. "Me? hang me if I did," insisted the stran-

eer. "Why, did you not wink, and keeping wink-

Winking? well, I did, and so did you at me. I thought you were winking at me as much as to say, 'keep dark; I'll stick some body into that lot of stuff,' and I winked a much as to say 'I'll be hanged if you don't

"I've been a thinking," said Little Froby, "about this here woman suffrage business. Sposing," said he, "that-a-now-Olive Logan, for instance, should be made President of this great and glorious country, bequeathed to us by noble sires, and all that, she'd be President Logan, would nt she?" We bowed. "Well, now, sposing she was to marry, say a man by the name of-of-Perkins, f'r instance, would she be President Logan or President Perkins?

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER, -4ND- · ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR IN BANKRUPTCY.

Congress having just amended the Bankrupt law so that nearly all parties can be discharged from their debts unobstructed by the fifty per eent, clause, so-called, another opportunity offers to secure the benefits of this most effective and permanent measure of relief. The above-named will make bankrupt business a specialty; will procure discharges on the most moderate terms, and transact all business in that line at prices which cannot fail to be satisfactory. Being Uni-ted States Commissioner he will endeavor to visit the different counties on court days, and thus save parties the trouble and expense of several trips to Alexandria in beginning and proceeding with their cases. Discharges can be obtained here before Register Hill as promptly as in Richard transport of the seven of mond or elsewhere, and at much less expense to parties. It may be added that the Bankrupt act, in connection with the Homestoad exemption, which it is now believed will be secured to the bankrupt under the bankrupt law, is the only real relief now offered to parties struggling in the hopeless bondage of old debts.
